Patinated stone wall fountain with gadrooned basin and lead ram's head

This elegant wall fountain, crafted from frost-resistant patinated limestone, stands out by its antique lead ram's head spout, set within a beautifully molded niche. Hand-sculpted decorative fruits and foliage enhance the columns and the area beneath the basin. Water flows into a wide, monolithic basin sculpted with gadroons, while a molded base and a molded cornice complete the ensemble. A unique piece, perfect for bringing character and timeless authenticity to a garden or courtyard.
