Antique garden wells

Exceptional and rare antique well made of Istrian stone - 19th century

This large antique Istrian stone well dating from the 19th century is a rare well of the Italian Quattrocento Venetian style. Very sumptuously hand-sculpted in relief, it is adorned with lion heads at the 4 corners and, all around, opulent upright foliage. A bearded man's head, 2 fruit bowls and a Lion of Saint Mark (winged lion, symbol of the city of Venice) complete the ensemble. Former restoration. Unique model, sold as is with its thick stone base (2 elements). Beautiful natural patina of time with moss and lichen.
